Ten Cents

View of an Overpaid Athlete

There is growing discontent among fans as they pay $8-$9 a seat to watch talented athletes turn in dull performances when they become miffed about their contract.

There are several cases which come to mind. Over past years we have observed the arrogance Wilt Chamberlain showed fans, owners and coaches as he became a millionaire as a basketball figure. His performance with the San Diego Conquistadors last year could best be described as infantile. His attitude was a pattern for ruining professional sports—an industry that made him rich.

His contempt for those who made his success possible appeared to be as great as his once considerable ability. It turned off more fans here than it attracted as he drew more than a half million dollars for his appearances last year.

There is presently the talented Charger fullback, Cid Edwards, whose wages are on the ascendancy. He has a valid contract but he has become dissatisfied with it. So he, too, is bruising the bird whose eggs are said to be golden. Last week Edwards is reported to have missed work because he didn't get a personal invitation. That shows immaturity.

It is not the common practice of employers to send invitations to those they employ to do a job. Intelligence and fiscal inclination motivates most people. Most athletes love the game they work at and they admire the high income such love-labor produces.

The shadow of Wilt Chamberlain recently fell on Marvin Barnes, the 22-year old basketball center of the ABA's Spirits of St. Louis. He was due to play in San Diego last week when the Spirits engaged the Q's in a Wednesday night game at the Arena.

But he was absent from his $300,000 a year job. He had sent word to his St. Louis employers that he would rather go to work in a factory than play for less than a million dollars a year. Can you imagine a 22-year old stud sweating out 8 hours a day for $100 a week as opposed to $6,000 a week over a 6-month period for a couple of hours a day of play or workout? As a fan, don't you resent such cavalier actions of people you support with your hard-earned admission cash?

Barnes recently traded his $15,000 white Fleetwood Cadillac for a $35,000 Rolls-Royce! That was some of your money!

Pete Axthelm, writing in the December 2 issue of NEWSWEEK puts much of the blame on college attitudes and sleazy, free-spending agents. He quotes Al McGuire, Marquette's basketball coach who faults colleges for not preparing college athletes for the maturity needed for dealing with agents and the world.

"A kid's grown up when he can accept yes and no answers on the same terms. Too many (at colleges) are just hearing yes, yes, yes."

Another McGuire observation: "In an age marked by the dignity and independence of black athletes, the special irony is that the sleaziest agents are white and their victims black."

"The only thing in this country that blacks really dominate except for poverty, is basketball. And they're letting white guys screw it up," McGuire said.

That is certainly one of the contributing factors for performances that are becoming disgracefully frequent among professional athletes. Another assessment of the situation is the apparent lack of responsibility of some top athletes. But that starts well before he gets to college.

Franchise holders who stupidly pay higher and higher prices for athletes must assume some of the guilt. There is no law which requires a basketball franchise to pay $2 million to a person for three years of fun-and-games indelure. And equally important, no law suggests that an employer must tolerate snarly insolence and the refusal to come to work.

Such unprofessional conduct has a deleterious effect on the rest of the team. Team, owners and fans are shortchanged as a result.

The rumble of fans is growing. Sports attendance has grown as the economy grew except where franchises were burdened with problem players. There, attendance generally sagged.

Now there is an economic letdown. Fans are metering out their dollars more carefully. The love and loyalty which once accompanied their ticket dollars may not be there next year.

Prudent owners should look to ways for cutting back ticket prices paid for watching sometimes inept, prima donnas.

A negotiating school underwritten by all professional club owners might be one answer. In it, athletes turning professional would be taught what is just by a faculty of lawyers and college business administration professors.

They would bypass agents who qualify as "sleazy" as they learn to negotiate for their true worth.

They should also be taught that they have a responsibility to the people who occupy the grandstand seats.

And equally important, they must learn that a contract is a contract — not a negotiating franchise.

Glass-Break Case Solved By Local Cop

Sheriff's Deputy Roy Hood unravelled several broken window complaints when he stopped three young men Saturday about midnight as they were running southbound in the 2500 block on Imperial ave.

Earlier, La Siete cafe own-good party—but sheriff's deputy, Yolanda M. Savala report-uties broke it up when they ed to police that a $100 plate spied two youngsters carry-glass window of her Spanish ing a six-pack of Budweiser food cafe had been broken beer.

Officers on patrol at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday saw the youngsters drop their cache in the underbrush on Presiooca st. in Church of Christ at 2575 Im-Spring Valley.

The two party-goers were 14-years of age. One from that trash cans in the area Lemon Grove; the other from where the glass had been Spring Valley, according to broken had been overturned the police report.

Local Input Sought on CPO Transit Plan

A public meeting to get local feedback on a county-wide transit plan is held Wednesday, December 11 at 7 p.m. in the Grossmont High School Auditorium, 1100 Murray dr., La Mesa.

The meeting is conducted by the Comprehensive Planning Organization of the San Diego Region. CPO has proposed a system of mass transit composed of rail, express bus, and local bus service, having conducted a study on transportation numbers and traffic patterns in the county.

A general plan has been adopted for long-range mass transit expansion.

The meeting is meant to generate community ideas on how a mass transit system should be operated, how it would be routed, how frequently it would run, what areas receive service, and how the system would be funded.

Citizens concerned with the transit situation in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area are urged to bring their suggestions to the Wednesday meeting.

Workman's Day Flat

To most workers TGIF (Thank Goodness It's Friday) signifies payday and the end of the week. But not to Robert Leonard Grivalho of 1826 La Corta st., Lemon Grove. When he completed his stint as mechanic at 6828 Federal blvd. at quitting time Friday he discovered that someone had slashed all four tires on his 1972 van.

Replacement cost, he said, would be $160.

L.G. Sheriff's Station Promotes, Reassigns Brass

Sheriff's Captain Henry L. Schilpp will replace Captain B. R. "Barney" Oldham as commander of the Sheriff's Station, North County patrol, and Juvenile Detectives.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., Schilpp remained in San Diego following service in the Navy during the Korean War. He is a 1973 graduate of the FBI Academy and holds an Advanced Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST) Certificate.

Other personnel changes at the Lemon Grove Station include Sgt. Donald Stewart moving to the Sheriff's Business Office and being replaced by Sgt. Walter Patroske who has been assigned to the jail. Deputies moving to new $400 TO AMIGOS — Lemon Grove Rotary Club President Dale Bailey presents a check for $400 to Dr. Myron D. Fessler, M.D., National Board member of the Amigos de las Americas, an immunization program for South America. The project sends area high school and college students to South American countries to administer disease immunization shots. The students are carefully screened and intensively trained for their work. About 200 students from San Diego County have worked in the program in the past four years, according to Dr. Fessler.

Food Drive Urges You to CARE

Each day's news adds another harsh stroke to the dark portrait of tragic world conditions. Reports of abject poverty and famine afflicting hundreds of millions overseas overwhelm us in their enormity. As the holidays approach—traditionally when we specially help the needy—many people are asking: what can one person do in the face of such massive suffering? What can one person do to help?

The fact is, you can do a lot more than you may realize.

Through CARE, a life-saving link is provided between Americans who want to help and those who need it most in 36 countries of Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. CARE provides food and medical aid, plus self-help-development programs to assist struggling families to grow more food.

The holiday season CARE Food Crusade asks for help to feed 22 million people, mostly children, in preschool.

Hanukkah Celebration Set for Cedar Center

Cedar Community Center's annual Hanukkah and Christmas Celebration is held Monday, December 23 at 2 p.m. in the dining room at 320 Date st. The colorful event features the lighting of the Hanukkah candles, a Christmas Mummer's Play and Nativity Scene by the Drama Group, original poems read by the Creative Writing Group, carols by the Choral Group and dances by the Folk Dance Group. Refreshments will follow.

All interested in attending are invited to participate.

and nutrition centers, schools, many of which CARE helped build. To provide the daily feedings throughout the coming year, CARE hopes for $7,300,000 in individual donations. The rest of the costs are covered by host government contributions and U.S. government supplies of farm foods. $5 gives 270 children full, nutritious lunches... $10 gives 3,600 children cups of protein-enriched beverage... $25 delivers 500 pounds of food, according to CARE officials.

You can mail your holiday contribution check to: CARE Food Crusade, 4055 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Ca. 90010.

Library Stories, Crafts Usher in Yule Season

School-aged children are invited to partake of the Christmas festivities sponsored by two local libraries.

Lemon Grove Library, 7735 Pacific ave., sponsors a special children's program.

Nancy Grace, library staff member, presents a preschool story time at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, December 17. The program consists of stories, songs, and fingerplays, centered around a Christmas theme. All school-age children are invited to come and enjoy "Katrina's Christmas," "Mousekin's Christmas Eve," and "The Littlest Christmas Tree."

Spring Valley Library

Thoughts of Christmas are coming to the Spring Valley Library. School-aged children have an opportunity to make

'Garden Bath' Is Current Plant Craze

With a little planning, almost any bathroom can become a striking "Garden Bath." The wide variety of live, green plants available today makes the garden look a dramatic and practical new decorating idea for bathrooms, according to the National Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

To determine innovations and trends in bathroom decor, the Bureau surveyed fixture manufacturers, home builders, interior designers, plumbing contractors and homemakers. One of the most popular trends, the Bureau found, is that of bringing the garden into the bathroom.

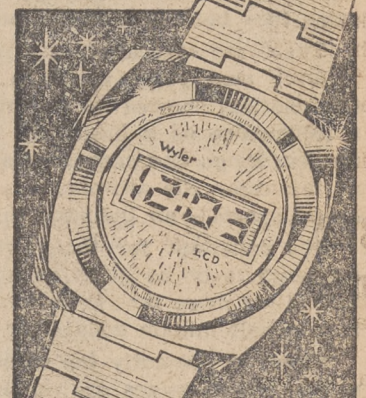

A nationally famous decorator referred to the trend this way: "Perhaps as a way to get back to nature, the interest in green plants is soaring. A new kind of store, the plant shop, is springing up everywhere. This popularity of green plants, combined with the natural humidity of the bathroom, makes the Garden Bath idea a natural."

Christmas cards today at 3:30 p.m. Materials are provided by the library for the project. Elsa Fasth, member of the library staff, will instruct and help the young patrons in this endeavor.

On Thursday, December 19, 3:30 p.m., Christmas will become more realistic when interested children will make ornaments for the library Christmas tree.

All school-aged children are welcome to attend these fun activities. The Spring Valley Library is located at 10433 Elkton blvd.

CLUB WOMAN'S CALENDAR

S.V. Women Christmas Fete Set

The Spring Valley Woman's Club holds its Annual Christmas Party, on December 11, 1 p.m., at 9062 Memory lane, Spring Valley. Hostesses for the day are Mrs. Gretta Mickelson, Janet Marshall, and Esther Harvie. Entertainment for the event is provided by 30 voices of the Monte Vista High School Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Bruce Beckman.

The club has recently voted to inaugurate a project of planting poppy seeds to beautify the hills and valleys of Spring Valley.

ABWA Christmas Dinner Slated

Harbor of the Sun Chapter of the American Business Women's Association holds its Christmas dinner meeting at the El Cortez Hotel, Monday evening, December 16, with cocktails, in the Skyroom at 6:30 p.m., and dinner in the Pool View Room at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker Mrs. Altha C. Williams of La Mesa, a dean at San Diego City College, is introduced by Mrs. Ann F. Myrseth of National City.

The vocational talk is given by Mrs. Margaret K. Peoples of Lemon Grove.

The Christmas meeting is traditionally open; husbands, friends and relatives invited. Gifts will be exchanged and carols sung by the "Nite Notes" of Clairemont Adult School.

Holiday Season Marks Beta Sig. Fete

Xi Beta Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi celebrates the Christmas season with cocktails and dinner, Sunday, 7:30 p.m. at the Black Angus Restaurant, 1000 Graves ave., El Cajon.

Members, husbands and friends attend this traditional party.

L.G. Woman Heads Hospital Dedication

Mrs. Ruth Fremont, a Lemon Grove resident, is serving on the committee planning opening events for Sharp Hospital's new Surgery / North Tower, an 8-story addition connected to the front of the existing main building in the hospital's complex on Kearny Mesa in San Diego.

Mrs. Fremont, director of volunteer services at the hospital, and other committee members have planned for the new ten million dollar facility to be shown in a series of invitational open house events on December 11 and 12 for employees, attending medical staff and auxiliary members and their families. On December 27 a reception and tour are planned for the hospital's board of directors, other members of the hospital's official family and friends of the hospital.

The public is invited to tour the ultra modern health care center on Saturday and Sunday, December 28 and 29 from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. each day.

Surprise in Store For Service Auxiliary

Shh! "Mum's" the word. Mrs. Peter E. Shea, president of the Social Service Auxiliary, has promised her two hundred city and county members, a great surprise at 1 p.m., at the Little America Westgate.

So far, it is a well-kept secret, known only to Mrs. Shea, her chairman for the day, Mrs. Lawrence C. Oliver, and the assisting committee. They met recently for a coffee at the P. Loma Home of Mrs. Oliver, to complete plans.

They are, Mmes: Walter Dewhurst, I. Y. Brabazon, Fred Meis, Thomas C. Hughes, M. H. Gleason, Raymond Coady, William J. Dowd, Raymond Smith, Fred Gloor, Richard F. Shea, John Ghio, Edward Tagwerker, Ralph Johnson, Walter Ellis and Thomas Tiernan.

Table centerpieces will be large sized Mrs. Santa Claus, made by Mrs. Fred Gloor, and a Christmas money-tree presented to the Sisters for their community projects.

Plant Society Sells Natives Sat. in Park

The second annual sale of native plants by the California Native Plant Society is held Saturday and Sunday in the Casa del Prado patio in Balboa Park, it was announced by Helen Witham, Associate Curator of Botany at the Natural History Museum and the Society's Special Projects Chairman.

Several hundred plants are being offered. They include trees, shrubs, bulbs, perennials and succulents, mostly in gallon cans. Wildflower seeds, books and pamphlets on the culture of natives and a selection of hand-thrown pots will also be on sale.

The plants, that can take care of themselves and require only occasional watering, should be of special interest to those who want to reduce labor and save energy, according to Mrs. Witham. They include pines, manzanitas, ceanothus, yuccas, lemonade berries and toyons. Advice and information on their care and culture will be available from experienced growers.

Unit 139's December Events Listed

Ladies Auxiliary Fleet Reserve Association Unit 139 meets this evening at 8 p.m. at 8118 University ave., La Mesa. Special Guest is Regional President Helen (Rusty) Nordhagen.

The Unit is preparing gifts for shut-ins, and for patients at Balboa Navy and Veterans' Hospitals. A Christmas party is planned for the V.A. Hospital patients on December 11. December 19 is the date for the Unit's Christmas Potluck Dinner. The dinner features gifts to the children and entertainment by the Helix High School Choir.

Lodge to Hold Anniversary Party

Scandinavian Lodge No. 667, Vasa Order of America, holds their 12th Anniversary and Jul Party at Carpenter's Hall, 670 East Lexington in El Cajon on Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. There will be music by Dahl's Swinging Swedes, good refreshments and door prizes. The featured soloist will be the brilliant young thirteen-year-old pianist, Bryan Verhoeve, a protege of Vivian Brown.

This Week's RECIPE

Chinese Chicken Cuts Costs

If your meat budget doesn't go as far as it used to, cook Chinese style, serving small amounts of meat in combination with attractive vegetables. In this recipe for Chinese Chicken and Pea Pods, one and a half pounds of chicken are used to make a main dish that serves four. Serve it with rice and frozen egg rolls, heated, with bottled Oriental sauces.

CHINESE CHICKEN WITH PEA PODS

(Serves four)

- 1 1/2 lb. chicken
- 1 6-oz package frozen pea pods
- 1 8-oz. can bamboo shoots
- 1 8-oz. can water chestnuts
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- 1 slice fresh ginger
- 3 tbsp. soy sauce
- 1 tbsp. sherry

- 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tbsp. cornstarch
- 2 tbsp. water
- 4 tbsp. salad oil
- Pinch of salt

Bone chicken and cut the meat into thin strips. Drain bamboo shoots.

Drain water chestnuts and slice thin. Thaw pea pods and dry on paper towels. Mince onion, garlic, and ginger.

Combine sauce mixture: Blend together soy sauce, sherry, sugar and 1 teaspoon salt.

sherry, sugar and 1 teaspoon salt.

Prepare thickening: Blend cornstarch with 2 tablespoons water.

Place a large skillet over high heat until a drop of water disappears almost immediately when flicked onto pan. Add 3 tablespoons oil and pinch of salt; swirl pan so oil coats surface.

Add minced onion, garlic, and ginger to pan and cook, stirring constantly and vigorously, until golden brown. Remove from pan to a plate and keep warm.

Add remaining tablespoon of oil to skillet. Add bamboo shoots and water chestnuts, stirring rapidly for one minute. Add pea pods, stirring constantly, and cook for one more minute.

Return cooked chicken to pan and add sauce mixture. Stir and cook for one minute.

Whisk cornstarch mixture with a fork and add it to pan, cooking and stirring for one minute more, or until the liquid is thickened and clear.

Serve immediately.

SDG&E SAN DIEGO GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

The San Diego Chargers, unfortunately, are about as successful at the box office these days as they are on the field. Their biggest crowd at home thus far in the fast disappearing campaign was 41,706 against Super Bowl d-fending Miami way back on Sept. 29. And even then, the Dolphins were the first home game of the season.

Things have been going down hill ever since, attendance-wise. Oh, Gene Klien's playboy did attract 40-thousand and change on the quickly switched Oakland game (baseball play-offs, you know), but Charger-Raider contests ought to draw more than that even if they played at midnight without lights.

The thing is, the Chargers are a better team than their support would have you believe. Without tucking my tongue too far in my cheek, I'd have to say the Chargers are probably the best 3-9 team in the National Football League.

The running game is being rebuilt with nifty-shifty Don Woods playing a leading role in the construction. The offensive line and the receiving corps are bonafide strengths and would be on any club in the NFL fraternity.

It is truly amazing to witness the development of a defensive line built almost entirely on trades, pick ups and/or other transfers after the late protest between players and owners.

Coy Bacon, who seems to disapprove of Tommy Prothro's coaching philosophies despite having one helluva year, is the only front liner to wear lightin' bolts as a regular last year.

Sure, you will be quick to point out, Pete Lazetich wore 'em, too, but remember, last year Pete was a line-backer. That was how then coach Harland Svare saw Old Pete.

Defensive coordinator Jackie Simpson has almost developed something out of the proverbial nothing. Of the several defensive departments, only deep back coach Willie Wood can call on what one might refer to as "regular veterans."

Yet, the Chargers have only been blown out three times, of you count last Sunday's 27-14 loss to Joe Namath. Denver topped them by 20 and Green Bay shut 'em out 34-0.

They don't admit it outloud, but both whippings came after close shadings by Oakland, and there is such a thing as a let down.

The Chargers return from four weeks on the road with one growing quarterback, a busted thumb, a field goal holder and a passing type running back, to tangle with the Chicago Bears. Admittance to the SuperBowl is not on the line. Neither team has a shot at the playoffs. But it ought to be a helluva contest.

It's the "No Pressure" Bowl where they play for pride and damn the won-loss record. And how they play will have a great deal to do with whom and how the Chargers draft this winter. They have a ton of shots at the college crowd and Coach Prothro, a master card-shark, is in a position to deal himself a dandy hand.

Oakland's Al Davis laughed when his team was accused of timely luck. But if the ball had bounced San Diego's way a time or two this campaign, it could have been the Chargers instead of Oakland heading for the playoffs.

Prothro has a better team than the one Ron Waller finished with last season and enough draft choices to improve it to contendership by next fall.

There are enough young tigers on his team who understand next year's jobs could be decided this Sunday and next to make the end of the season more than well worth the watching. It's "show-the-boss" time.

Attendance is down this year, but if you peek around the corner to 1975, you'd have to figure the wins as well as the folks will soon be back. And won't you be proud to say you never left?

Q's Due Home Sunday Night To Greet Swen Nater; Spurs

Following the Denver game Frank Sims calling the play-by-play.

Sunday, December 8th the Q's return home for their first Sports Arena appearance against Swen Nater and the San Antonio Spurs. Gametime is 7 p.m.

The Q's have three promotions planned for the San Antonio game. It will be Kids Night. All youngsters 16-and-under will be admitted to the $5 reserved seats for only $1.

The evening has also been designated as Salvation Army Night. Fans are invited to field goals for a season, 18 bring a canned good for the for a career, and four in one Salvation Army to distribute game. Punter Tim Thorn established a mark for most punts in a career (140) and

New Bobby Sox Coliseum Middleweight Fracas Carded

Team To Start

Another Bobby Sox Softball team is scheduled to be organized in Spring Valley, according to Chuck Wood, president of the Jamacha Hills Booster Club.

It will be known as the Jamacha Hills Bobby Sox and the address is 1424 Whitestone rd., Spring Valley.

Wood says the Jamacha Hills Bobby Sox League was organized 5 years ago and 12 teams were fielded last year. This year the league anticipates 20.

A field-lighting project is here by hitting his opponent, under way to provide time for the added teams, he said.

It's Dave Love vs Mike Nixon Friday

It'll be the "good guys" the fouts, Nixon was seemingly out on his feet from a jolting right hand by the Mexican.

"It was an accident," Mike insisted after gaining a unanimous decision. "I was hurt and just fighting back like any other man would have done."

But while Fierro squirmed on the canvas in obvious pain, Nixon appeared far from apologetic, shaking his glove and making faces at booing customers.

Love, who is set to meet California state champion George Cooper for the title shortly after the new year, would like nothing better than to sharpen his tools at Nixon's expense.

"I'd like to teach that guy a boxing lesson he'll never forget," Dave said. "Anybody who has to resort to low blows to win a fight doesn't belong in this business."

The Fierro battle marked Nixon's sixth consecutive triumph, running his pro record to 25-4.

Love's last appearance came in San Francisco where he lost a disputed split verdict to Rudy Robles. The only previous loss for Robles was to champion Cooper.

Next Friday in the Coliseum at final for 1974, promoter Mickey Davies will pair unbeaten local prospects Carlos Tillerina and Manny Lujan in a double main event attraction. The scheduled 10 round-ers will be the first ever for both youngsters.

Looking at San Diego's record from a divisional run-down, the Mariners are 4-0 vs. Canadian teams, 4-2 vs. the West and 3-5 against the East.

Records, Title Go With Aztecs Win Over Utah

Wide receiver Dwight McDonald headed the record breakers for the San Diego State football team Saturday night as the Aztecs wound up the 1974 season on a winning note, beating Utah State 34-8.

The win left the Aztecs with an 8-2-1 mark for the season while Utah State closed at 8-3. McDonald, however, was the big news as the All-America candidate caught 11 passes for 150 yards to give him 86 catches for the season and 1157 yards.

The 86 catches won for McDonald the national pass receiving title with a per game average of 7.8. John Ross of Toledo finished second with 77 catches in 11 games for a per game average of 7.0. McDonald and Colorado State's Willie Miller were the only two receivers to gain over 1000 yards on receptions in 1974.

McDonald's 86 catches also broke a San Diego State school record of 85 set by Tim Delaney in 1969. Delaney was the leading receiver in the World Football League this year, playing for the Hawaiians.

The Aztecs set several other records this season headed by kicker Benny Ricardo's 10 field goals for a season, 18 for a career, and four in one game. Punter Tim Thorn established a mark for most punts in a career (140) and

Hosts Win Wrestling Invitational

Mt. Miguel's Matador wrestling team stole the show in their home gym by winning the Lemon Grove Rotary-sponsored Mt. Miguel Invitational Wrestling tournament last Friday.

The Matadors collected three firsts, two seconds, and two thirds enroute to 105½ team points. Juniors Tom Mount and Craig Leonetti and senior Larry Spagnolo finished on top in their respective weight divisions for Miguel while Greg Dixon and Jim Reeves won second places.

A 10-round featherweight was cut short when Diego Martinez registered a technical knockout over Carlos Perez at 1:50 of the 8th round. Pine doctor William Lundeen stopped the fight when Perez' left arm was cut and blooded. It took the skinny little fighter's perfect reflexes to signal a 16 fight; 16 knockouts.

A six-round lightweight fight ended in a "no decision" when Juvenico Bernal claimed "foul" in the third round.

The Westerners, who lost the services of Alan Cunning- ham, 6-7 sophomore forward from Morse High school in San Diego with a broken hand on the final play of Saturday's game against UC San Diego, will meet Cal Lutheran on the UC San Diego court on Fri- day and then travel to Po- mona on Saturday.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

The County has completely mismanaged this project. A large percentage of residents don't even know of the elec- tion or its purpose.

Here is my letter to the Environmental Development Agency. Please reproduce as much of it as you can.

Royal E. Dieter
Chairman,
Executive Committee
Valle de Oro
Planning Association
PO Box 296,
Spring Valley

Dear Mr. Warren:

The Valle de Oro Planning Assn. sponsored the new Citizens Executive Committee under the revised concept at your request. You obtained approval from the County Board of Supervisors for the election. A representative of your office and established community election proceed- ures. The election was set for December 17 but we find there are discrepancies.

The most serious being that as many as 20 per cent of local residents were not noti- fied of the election. This pre- vented them from running as an "at large" seat on the Executive Committee. Omitted were residents who rent homes or shops. As far as we know none in this category was notified.

It has been the policy of the Board of Supervisors backed by your statements to our association that no unin- corporated areas would be excluded from the election. Yet, people in two major areas have been declared in- eligible.

Publicity regarding the elec- tion did not appear in local newspapers until after No- vember 20, five days after the deadline for filing.

At first our association planned to take legal steps to have the election resched- uled, but this would delay the planning process. Rather, we urge you to consider the fol- lowing:

1. Publicize heavily the De- cember 10th candidates' meet- ing and the December 17 elec- tion and its purposes.
2. Permit "at-large" writ- ings to allow those not previ- ously advised to run.
3. Eliminate the "holes" created by excluding part of the planning area.

Sincerely,
Royal E. Dieter

Editor's Note:

Bruce Warren, Director of Planning said Tuesday that write-ins will be permitted if the Registrar of Voters can arrange it.

Try Your Home Town First!

Here is your invitation to they will be here. There is something to be said for conserving gasoline by shopping at home. Wise shoppers have learned that using a half tank of gasoline in an attempt to save a few pennies on a special item far away is not really thrif. Ad- ditionally, the penny saving item may be sold out early that morning.

Then there's that old axiom that is so true. The money you spend at home helps keep the home community happy and prosperous.

AAFP Fellowships Awarded Local Men

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Three doctors from the Lemon Grove area have been named Fellows of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

The doctors named are: Sam W. Smith, M.D., Raymond I. Downs, M.D., and Edwin C. Grubbs, M.D.

The degree of Fellowship may be attained in either of two ways: successful completion of 600 or more hours of accredited continuing medical study, or achievement of diplomatic status in the specialty of family medicine as a result of passing a certifying examination administered by the American Board of Family Practice.

Fellowship entitles the conferee to use the title "Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians," or "FAA-FP," the degree was conferred October 15 upon some 3,000 members of the Academy in conjunction with the AAFP's annual convention and scientific assembly in Los Angeles.

$579 Missing

Duff M. Calvert, manager of an apartment building on Orville st. in Spring Valley, told police that when she returned from a visit one evening last week rent money she was holding was missing.

$358 was in cash; $221 in check, she told the sheriff's department.

PROJECTION EXPLANATION — Miss Suzanne Pickard, now a Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater staff member, is briefed on projection equipment details by facility technician Mike Tuskes. The pictured gear is one small portion of the battery of specially-designed special effects projection equipment now employed in "The Star of Bethlehem." The holiday package, continuing through Jan. 5, illustrates various explanations for the light that led the three wise men to Bethlehem.

Speeding Brings Marijuana Charge

Sheriff's deputies charged they stopped him for exceeding the 35 miles an hour limit on 10077 Fondo, Spring Valley, at Fuerte and Avocado. Williams also had a malfunctioning rear light on his car.

Officers say that Williams had a baggie of marijuana in his sock; some Zig-zag papers and a roach. The charges will be heard in El Cajon Municipal Court.

What they took from the Wet Spot at 6024 Quarry rd. will contribute to that plan. Missing from the place, according to Wet Spot clerk Robert Craig Morrison were: 10 cases of beer; 6 cases of bacon; 10 cartons of cigarettes; 2 cases of wine; 15 boxes of candy and a half-case of apples.

The intruders entered through a rear window.

State Health Director Warns of Toy Hazards

The Christmas shopping season is upon us, with its bustle and joy and frustration. The spirit of giving, particularly to the young, becomes a dominant part of our lives.

But there may be a spectre at the feast. "Each year thousands of children in California are injured—some seriously—by unsafe toys," said State health director William E. Mayer, M.D.

"Approximately 150,000 toy-related injuries nationally were treated in hospital emergency rooms last year. Injuries included cuts and punctures, electrical shock and burns, chemical burns, and poisoning. In many cases,

Art Funding is Cultural Boost

A total of $424,709 in matching grant awards for 135 performing arts organizations throughout the state was approved by the California Arts Commission at its regular meeting in Santa Barbara, Wednesday, November 20.

The San Diego California Ballet Association received $3,000 of that amount which will be used for audience development.

The San Diego Opera Association received $4,837 which will be spent on in-school pilot classes, Saturday Morning Workshops for junior and senior high school students, evening student performances, and a short production to tour elementary and secondary schools.

The San Diego Symphony Orchestra Association also received $4,837 which will finance the production and presentation of a special non-subscription symphony concert.

$11,373 was granted to the Old Globe Theatre. The money will be used to continue the Globe Educational Tour.

'Lucia Fest' Is Swedish Celebration

Swedish Christmas, known as the Lucia Fest, will be celebrated publicly this year by two shops in Old Town, something Special from Scandinavia and the Kessler Art Gallery, both at 2523 San Diego ave.

At 3:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, December 14 and 15, the shops will serve coffee and cakes as Santa Lucia and her court are heralded by the traditional songs which initiate the Scandinavian Christmas season. The music for the Lucia Fest will be sung by the Lingenon Choral from Vasa Lodge No. 667.

Legends tell of the Vikings who returned home from Sicily, bringing Lucia with her crown of candles to lighten the dark, dreary Swedish winter. Another explains her origin as being a dedicated Christian who took food each night to the poor in the Roman catacombs. In order to provide light for her path and to free her hands to carry her gifts, she wore candles in her hair.

Swedes consider the night of December—Lucia Day—to be the longest, darkest night of the year, and since trolls are thought to love a dark night, nocturnal Christmas elves, "Jul Tomtarna," are included in the festivities surrounding Lucia.

Electric Bills to Rise

New Year Brings Surcharge

California electric consumers will be paying a new tax will be collected by the utility companies, starting January 1, when the companies' Energy Resources Surcharge Law becomes effective. The electric utilities will be registered by the Board's Excise Tax Unit and will report on a quarterly basis. In addition, a charge which initially will be one-tenth of a mill per kilowatt hour on the consumption of electrical energy in California purchased from an electric utility. The tax will be administered by the State Board of Equalization.

Board Member John W. Lynch said that at the one-tenth of a mill rate the surcharge will add about 8 cents per month to the average res-

Holiday Organ

Program Scheduled

Jim Hansen, nationally-known organist will give a special holiday organ presentation featuring music of the Christmas Season on Saturday, December 14th at 8 p.m. The program will be held at the Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

Tickets are available by mail, at the box office the evening of the performance or by phone (463-0308).

—To research and develop alternative sources of energy, improvements in energy generation, transmission and siting, fuel substitution and other topics related to supply, demand, public safety, ecology, and conservation which are of particular statewide importance.

By August 1 of each year the Board will establish a new rate, to be effective September 1, that the Board estimates will produce sufficient revenues to fund the expenditures authorized by the Legislature for the Commission for that fiscal year. The rate may be set from zero to two-tenths of a mill, graduated in hundredths of a mill increments.

Money Use

All moneys received will be credited to the Energy Resources Surcharge Fund. The revenue will be used as appropriated by the Legislature for the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission of the Resources Agency to:

—Carry out energy conservation measures to improve such things as building design and insulation, appliance efficiency, power generation, and power technology.

—Certify the siting and design of electric power generating and related facilities to help ensure that sufficient energy is available when and where needed by Californians.

Approximately 50 California electric utilities will be registered by the Board's Excise Tax Unit and will report on a quarterly basis. In addition, a charge which initially will be one-tenth of a mill per kilowatt hour on the consumption of electrical energy in California purchased from an electric utility. The tax will be administered by the State Board of Equalization.

The first year's revenue is expected to be $15 million. Board administrative costs are estimated at slightly less than 20 cents per $100 collected.

Wash-Wax Fraud Tried Here

A new racket involving washing, waxing and repairing mobile homes has been uncovered by members of the Sheriff's fraud unit.

According to Deputy Joseph G. Camacho, "Three clean-cut, white males, about 20 years old, and driving a 1970 pink Thunderbird, have been offering to repair the roofs and wash and wax mobile homes for amounts from $20 to $85 — whatever the traffic will bear."

Camacho said that in one instance in Vista, the men merely turned the elderly lady's garden hose on her mobile home, then threatened her if she did not pay them $20 for the so-called wash job.

"A Spring Valley woman paid the trio $85 in advance to wash, wax and repair her roof. She left to attend church, and the three men left with her money without doing any work at all.

"As in the other cases reported, there was no contract, no license, no identification, and the so-called workmen would accept only cash," the fraud investigator said.

Deputy Camacho asked that if anyone is contacted for similar work, under similar circumstances, notify the Sheriff's Department immediately.

Guess Who?

SHOPPERS' QUIZ — If you recognize the mystery businessperson pictured above or have an idea where you might find him, take the picture to his place of business and, if you're the first to do so, you will receive a prize of two free lunches. Last week, Sean and Glen Hoaglund, 8127 Golden ave., were first to correctly identify Judy Holst of Lemon Grove Florist, 7965 Broadway. They were awarded a mum plant for their efforts.

Mid-Year Upturn Seen By UCB Economist

By Max Goodwin

1974 wasn't all bad. He was positive about a depression. There won't be provided record profits to those who sold things. Profits came mostly from inventory which was increased in value as it was held.

In 1975, the Dow-Jones will rise by 200 points.

These were two of the observations made by Dr. Ray Jallow Tuesday last week at the United California Bank's 12th annual economic forecast presented to business leaders at Vacation Village.

Jallow is senior vice president and chief economist for UCB. His prognostications have been extremely reliable in the past.

He admitted that the nation is in the midst of the longest recession since WWII but he said it would bottom out by mid-year. The inventory profit of 1974 would not repeat in 1975, he warned.

One of the pressures on high consumer prices—which are inflationary—is the threat of wage and price controls. Wages and prices are searching for a higher level that will sustain them if controls are invoked, he noted.

Unemployment will rise to 8 per cent nationwide. It is at that level in California now. Employment will pick up again midyear, he said.

No Depression

He was positive about a depression. There won't be provided record profits to those who sold things. Profits came mostly from inventory which was increased in value as it was held.

Prices are on the rise and investors can double their money in a year.

The way it operates: $10,000 down buys a $50,000 house. It would be worth $80,000 next year as the rate of increase continues at 20%. A $40,000 mortgage would provide a paper profit of $20,000, doubling the original investment, he explained.

The cost of money will drop early next year but will rise again, Jallow said.

Housing starts will begin to rise soon after the start of the new year, he said.

He sees money being released and suggests that government could aid the economy by giving the first $1,000 interest earned in savings account interest.

San Diego County, he said, will account for 20 percent of the state's population increase, with a gain of 42,000 residents, a numerical increase exceeded only by Orange County. At year-end San Diego County will have 1,572,000 residents.

More Jobs

The area's economy will generate 15,000 new jobs in 1975, reaching a yearly average of 478,000 workers. All of the major employment sectors are expected to contribute to new jobs.

Employment growth, however, will not keep pace with labor force gains and unemployment will rise. The unemployment rate soared to an average of 9.3 percent in 1974, and little relief is expected in the first half of 1975. The pace of new job formation should improve in the second half of the year, but unemployment will still average 9.7 percent in 1975.

Homebuilding will show some improvement in 1975, despite continued high mortgage rates and various growth and environmental restrictions. Significant levels of unsold units remain, however, which will restrict the number of permits authorized in 1975 to a total of 20,800—a 13 percent increase over the depressed 1974 level. Commercial and industrial construction will show some slight improvement.

Personal income in the county will record significant gains, increasing by just over $1 billion to a total of $9.75 billion. San Diego's median family income will increase $1,030, for a total of $14,725. Retail sales will also gain, increasing by 9.8 percent, or $385 million, to a total of $4.33 billion.

Helix Band Wins Anaheim Review

The Helix Marching Band took first place Saturday at the first annual Anaheim Pacific States Band Review with a 95.2 score.

Drum major Greg Lusitana scored third with 91.0.

The band now turns its attention toward the coming concert season which begins on December 18th with the annual Christmas program.

Saturday, the band will take part in two events. In the morning band members will try their hand in a Christmas tree decorating contest. That afternoon, the Helix Hi-Stepers will hold their annual fashion show in the Helix green room at 1 p.m. with members modeling.

A couple of days earlier Sheriff's Deputy Vernon Lemke recovered a mower at the rear of a building in the 7300 block on Broadway.

When Lemke heard the description, he said "I've got it impounded!" Now owner and power mower are happily together again.

Courses to Coach Parents on Sex Education

Teaching children and adolescents about sexuality, and decreasing the pressure to become stereotyped in sex roles in childhood will be subjects of two courses to be presented during the winter quarter by UCSD Extension.

Both courses are open to parents and other adults who are interested, as well as teachers and counselors.

"Understanding and Teaching Human Sexuality" will meet on Friday evenings and all day Saturday for three weekends in January, beginning at 7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 10, in Rm. 1148 of the Humanities Library Building on UCSD's Revelle Campus.

Dr. Peter Frank, a curriculum coordinator with the San Diego County Department of Education will lead the six sessions.

Contents of the course meet guidelines suggested by the State Board of Education for teachers of sex education. The registration fee will be $55.

"Stereotypes and Sex Roles: What Do Children Learn?" will be held on nine Tuesday evenings, beginning Jan. 7. Meetings will be 7 to 10 p.m. in Rm. 358 of Roosevelt Jr. High School.

Instructors Colleen R. Fearn and Lorraine I. Kakos designed the course to be an experience in heightening awareness of factors that pressure children into sexual stereotypes.

The fee for this course is $50.

For enrollment information, contact Extension office at 452-3400.

Letters to Santa...

Dear Santa: I want a target gun, a balloon, a crane and a dog.

Thank you
